

Green Products

ECO-FRIENDLY

The term "green" refer to products, services, and practices whose manufacturing, purchase and use allows for economic development while still conserving, for future generations.

For our fabrics tents and umbrellas we are proud of the Eco-friendly Printing Process used.

Soluciones POP uses the reclamation process to successfully reuse water. This process has little to no environmental impact.

Our printed fabrics are polyester which is made with recycled materials. Polyester has resilience and it is easy to reuse and clean. It lasts longer than other substrates making polyester a great choice for printed products with little damaging effects to the environment.

The digital dyes used in our printing processes are inert. The inks are water-based which cause no damage to the environment.

All Faber Pro-Motion BV products have the ISO 9002 certification.
